Strata CTX Selected for its

“Technological Excellence and Vision”

Have you heard the news? Toshiba TSD is thrilled to announce that Strata CTX has been named a Product of the Year winner for 2002 by Technology Marketing Corporation (TMC)'s Internet Telephony, one of the industry's leading publications!

Calling it a “clear leader” in the telephony industry, Strata CTX was honored for its “technological excellence and vision.”

Further, Internet Telephony editors reviewed more than 150 applications for the honor before selecting Toshiba TSD as one of the winners exemplifying the vision, leadership and attention to detail that are the hallmarks of Product of the Year award winners.

This industry stamp of approval is a great testimonial to the Toshiba Strata CTX. Be sure to check out the January issue of Internet Telephony magazine for the complete article.
